Underworld of Canada

Greatly daring, Miss M. C. Ratte, of the Presbyterian Board of Social Service and Evangelism, succeeded in holding two interesting meetings at the Mission Hall on polling day. Of course, her tour, which extends from Seattle, Marie to Vancouver, was planned months ago, and it was just Blairmore's luck that Thrusaw fer here. It speaks much for the deepened sense of responsibility for those who have come down that the Women's Guild gathering in the afternoon and the meeting of men and women in the evening were well attended. In the afternoon Mrs. Pigeon, vice-president, was in the chair, and the president, after introducing Miss Ratte, left the ladies to themselves. Mrs. Rank, as hostess, provided tea. It is said that after the address a lot of questions addressed to the visitor brought out much interesting information. In the evening J. S. Shaw presided in the absence of the mayor. Miss Ratte's description of the loneliness and temptations of the working girls in the big cities was very striking, and her denunciation of the economic conditions which are responsible for so much moral disaster made ears tingle. Her account of the magnificent machinery for redemption work, which the Presbyterian church of Canada has created, was very timely indeed. Mrs. L. H. Putnam was Miss Ratte's hostess during her visit.

Bob Campbell was received with great ovation both in Coleman and Blairmore on Thursday night. At Blairmore a great concourse of people by a score of torchlights and the brass band escorted "Bob" from the C. P. R. depot to the Blairmore hotel, at which instant a driving band, he expressed his thanks to the electors of the Rocky Mountain constituency, and especially of Blairmore for the grand majority rolled up for him in the day's election.

Election Returns

Up to time of going to press the following returns have been received, which claim about 15 seats for the Conservatives and 23 Liberals. In the Rocky Mountain riding Bob Campbell made a sweep of over 900 majority. Blairmore had the lead with Campbell 187, Powell 67 and O'Brien 58. The Liberals returned were for Acadia, Beaver River, Bow Valley, Cardston, Claresholm, Cochrane, Coronation, Camrose, Clearwater, Didsbury, Edmonton (1), Eden, Gleichen, Grouard, Hand Hills, Innisfail, Lacombe, Ladue, Lee, Ste. Anne, Little Bow, Nanton, Old, Pembina, Ponoka, Redcliff, Ribstone, St. Albert, Sedgewick, St. Paul, Sturgeon, Teller, Vegreville, Victoria, Vermillion, Warner, Wetaskiwin, Whitford. Total 38.

The Conservatives, carried Alexander, Calgary (3), Edmonton (1), South Edmonton, High River, Lethbridge, Pincher Creek, Red Deer, Stony Plain, Wainwright, Rocky Mountain. Total 15.

Elections have been deferred in Athabasca and Peace River.

Results of Medicine Hat are expected today.

The Blairmore Conservatives have gone to erect a memorial slab to the Coleman Bulletin, also a Home For Insane for the editor of that paper and his son-called "Larkie" whose efforts to place a slanted opponent in the contest for the Rocky Mountain riding rolled up a great majority for Bob Campbell.

Rev. T. M. Murray, of Coleman, gave his lecture on Scotland at the Mission hall on Tuesday and exhibited a striking collection of slides collected mainly during his visit to Scotland last year. "Scottish Provisions" were served in the way of refreshment at the close under the direction of Mrs. Carter, and were much appreciated.

M. E. Schofield went out to Fernside Monday.

Council Meeting

The regular meeting of the Blairmore town council was held Monday night, when all the councillors and the mayor were present.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved, after which a large number of communications and accounts were dealt with.

A letter from W. D. Light, secretary-treasurer of the Interprovincial Highway Association, was read asking the approval of the programme outlined by them. The council forthwith endorsed the movement.

John Perrie, of the department of municipal affairs, asked for declaration to accompany by-law 16 for the borrowing of $15,000.

Mah Kee, a Chinaman, asked permission to operate a laundry on Victoria Street, lot 5, block 5. Mah Kee will likely have to locate in some byway for the carrying on of his wretched business.

Several letters in connection with the marketing of bonds were received.

John Perrie, of the department of Municipal affairs, advised re a number of amendments being made to the town's Act.

G. J. Kinnaird, of the Union of Alberta Municipalities, soliciting membership of the town.

Rocky Mountain Cement Co. complained that part of their lands were being used by the public as a nuisance ground, and requested the town to have same removed and also to stop any further dumping on their property. Secretary was instructed to inform the R. M. C. Co. that the town would not deal with the matter.

The following accounts were read: Johnstone Storage and Cartage Co. for one protective graph, $35.00; Rocky Mountain Cement Co. March bill $54.20; Alberta Trading Co. thirty-five cents; Blairmore Hardware Co. $1.50; W. A. Henderson & Co. $37.50; Bonds Coupons $10.50; J. R. Irwin $103.00; Woods & Steel, per order from W. J. Budd, $150.00.

The quarter's report was presented by the chief of police.

A report from health inspector Baker was received. The report stated that upwards of fifty closets without non-porous receptacles were located at different points in close proximity to the river and streams flowing through the town, and recommended that preventive measures be taken not only in connection with these, but many others which were found to be in a very unsanitary state.

The financial statement of the town for the past quarter was read and approved.

Drain-Hinds—That the town re-engage J. R. Irwin as town police for one year from date at the present rate of salary. Messrs. Sinclair, McLeod and Beebe voted against, and Messrs. Hinds, Drain and Brisco in favor of the motion. The mayor declared the motion carried and J. R. Irwin elected.

Hinds-Drain—That the council pass a resolution authorizing the payment of police salary for the month of March. Motion lost.

In connection with the above, it is contended by the councillors that the mayor was not justified in making an appointment of police immediately after the refusal of the councillors to endorse a previous similar appointment, when such was not a case of real necessity. (The matter was on Tuesday morning rushed before a magistrate who is a ratepayer in the town and who could not be considered an unbiased justice. Judgment was delivered ordering the payment of March salary. No true interpretation of the Act empowering the mayor to appoint justifies his action in re-appointing a police immediately after the council's refusal to sanction the previous appointment, and in this case the mayor could not prove that the immediate re-appointment was urgent. It is true that the town is liable for the salary contracted by the first appointment, but not for the second fifteen days. The council, we understand, will appeal to a competent jurisdiction.)

The water and works committee reported that certain hydrants in the town were being tampered with without permission, and it was recommended that a notice prohibiting same be published in the Enterprise.

Brisco-Hinds—That the town advertise for tenders for a light supply. Carried.

Since the meeting, however, the fire and light committee decided first to find out from Mr. Reilly as to whether the Rocky Mountain Cement Co. intended to improve or continue the service, if not the town will immediately call for tenders.

Sinclair-Hinds—That secretary be empowered to set a date for the sitting of the court of revision on the new assessment rolls, in accordance with the town act.

Amendments were made to the water rates for lawns and blacksmith's shops.

Brisco-Hinds—That mayor sign contract with the secretary-treasurer for his services till December 31st 1914.

Brisco-Hinds—That Mayor sign contract with J. R. Irwin, as chief of police for one year. No other business, the meeting adjourned at 11 p. m.

Financial Report

The following is the report of the auditors of the financial condition of the town of Blairmore on March 31st:

Lethbridge, Alberta, April 11th, 1913.

His Worship the Mayor and Council.

Town of Blairmore, Alberta. Gentlemen—We beg to report that we have audited the Town books for quarter ending 31st March, and that all our requirements have been complied with.

The accompanying Statement of Receipts and payments has been taken from the books and is, in our opinion, a true and correct statement.

The books have been carefully and correctly kept, and the cash duly and properly accounted for.

GOOD THING FOR THE HENS.

Advantages of Connecting Colony Poultry Houses.

By the use of the connecting collar shown in the cut two or more poultry colony houses can be brought together and used for the winter quarters of a flock of thirty-five or more fowls. When used in two or in three an overwintering house can be connected and used as the feeding and scratching shed. If a third house is used in the series it can be fitted as a laying or a dusting pen. In this way the fowls can be kept in larger flocks, with greater liberty to the individual. Labor is also greatly reduced, inasmuch as only one house instead of two or three need be visited when feeding, etc. Furthermore, by virtue of the larger number roosting in one pen it will be proportionately warmer. This connection could be made by a covered wooden passageway as well

Wall Paper.
The wall paper industry in this country is about 100 years old, but the general use of wall paper dates from 1852.

Manhattan Island.
The island of Manhattan contains twenty-two square miles.

Car's Water Club.
York can boast of the honor of having established the Water Club of the Harbor of Cork, the first yacht club in the United Kingdom, Lord Inchiquin, the Hon. James O'Brien, Charles O'Neill, Henry Mitchell and John Rogers being its first members. The flag was "the royal Irish harp and crown on a green field in the center." It came into existence some time before 1748.

Spanish Bullfights.
The average number of horses killed in Spanish bullfights every year exceeds 5,000, while from 1,000 to 1,200 bulls are sacrificed.

Wood Paving.
The Russians invented wood paving for streets.

Big Money For Songs.
Many musicians besides merely composing writers have gained considerable sums of money. Sullivan received $20,000 in royalties from "The Lost Chord." "In Old Madrid" brought its composer—until then unknown—to fame—$75,000.

Opals.
Opals, expanding with heat, often burst their settings and when contracted through refrigeration to normal temperature drop out.

Monument of Tears.
Marking the dividing line between Europe and Asia and of Russia and Siberia at the summit of the Ural mountains, is the "monument of tears," a white, triangular pyramid, so significant to the unfortunate exile, whose eyes here catch a final glimpse of the land which contains all that is dear to him.

Tight Boots.
Wearing tight boots affects the whole system. Appetite, complexion and eyesight all suffer. Some physicians assert that baldness is partly to be ascribed to this practice.

Asia.
Asia has 17,007,600 square miles and 850,000,000 inhabitants.

The Viachs.
The towns and villages of the Viachs are more solidly built than those of any other Balkan race. Notwithstanding their love of attractive stone houses, the Viachs are great wanderers during the summer months. A great part of the male population of the towns travel far about the country dealing in horses. They are shrewd business men.

Falkland Islanders.
There are five men to every two women in the Falkland Islands, a Cape Horn. The total population is 3,275, of whom 2,370 are males and 905 females.

The Matchmakers.
It takes the constant labor of 60,000 people to make matches for the world.

LET THERE BE NO WASTE!

Get away from the one crop system. You exhaust your soil and you return little to it by one crop. Rotate your crops. If you cannot do a better job, better let your land lie fallow. In fact, so that the atmosphere and nature will do what they can to restore its fertility. Cultivate corn more; cultivate rye and oats; cultivate cowpeas and peanuts; cultivate alfalfa and clover and utilize all the products of the farm. Let there be no such thing as waste of hydrocarbons—Home and Farm.

Prepare For the Young Pigs.

Know the date when your sows are due to farrow, set it down as something important, then be on the ground on that date, not to fatten and cause disturbance, but quietly to watch and right things if anything needs righting. You may save more money indirectly through this watchfulness than by any other thing in dealing with hogs.

Indoor Farming.

A few cents will get some hogs to hang the lantern on down at the barn. They are handy and much safer than bulls.

A nice new cork scullie, not too big, is one of the handiest things you ever saw for getting grain into bags. Every try it!

Driving a wedge with the back of the ax has spoiled many a good tool. Take a maul or beetle to do that work and save the ax for its own work.

Clean up and burn all rubbish that would furnish a harboring place for insects and mice. This is especially important with hickories and frames.

"The cellar is not the best place to keep pumpkins in winter. They are apt to rot there. Put them upstairs and see that they are used before they begin to decay."

One thing to study in the winter is to keep your land from being washed away by the storms. This can be done by the use of the cross plow. You will take from your farm. One good method is to keep washing land and seed down.—Farm Journal.

LOST BY AN EYELASH.

When James R. Keene Lost For Him a Big Bet on Beem.

Although James R. Keene was known as the servant of Wall Street operators, he was actually a betting man on the race tracks. He dearly loved to win valuable stakes, and he won nearly everything in this line except the classic English Derby, which horses rarely carried anything but an infinitesimal wager. Big wagers were few and far between with him.

One day when his Ben Brush colt Beem was making his racing debut at Sheepshead Park, Keene visited the paddock in company with his trainer, Jimmy Howe, and inspected the colt minutely. Keene was very fond of Noontide, the colt's dam, and he talked proudly of his expectations of Beem. The colt had worked exceptionally fast, and the race looked as sure as sure things can be regarded on a race track.

The result of the conference with Howe was that Mr. Keene decided to make one of his rare large bets on Beem's race to stride for the green flag, and when it was Harry Mall's turn he showed a scant advantage. So it was all the way, Mr. Keene watching the contest through his glasses without a murmur. The crowd was on his toes. As they passed the judges it was Harry Mall's turn to lose one of his few wagers on the turf.—New York.

A PEEP AT IRELAND.

Where the Weather Plagues You Only to Fascinate You Later.

I must allow that it sometimes rains in Ireland, but Irish rain is not quite like other rain. It is, as a rule, softer than rain elsewhere, and if the truth must be told I like rain so long as it has not to say, "For the rain it raineth every day."

Irish weather is not so much capricious as capricious. It likes to play you, if but to prepare you to enjoy the more its sunny, melting mood. It will weep and wail all night and, lo, the next morning Ireland is one sweet smile and seems to say: "It rained last night yesterday? Ah, then I'll rain no more."

And the runnels leap and laugh, and the pastures and very stone walls glister in the light on their cool, clean journey; there is a pungent, healthful smell of drying peat; the mountains are all bright with the joy of life and summer; the lake lies perfectly still, content to reflect the overhanging face of heaven, and just won't your honor be about the most honest pair of honest eyes that ever looked at a barefoot, bareheaded daughter of detested boys with eyes like dewdrops and a voice that would charm the coin out of the most churlish purse?

If on such mornings as these you do not lose your heart to Ireland it must be made of stern, unimpressionable stuff indeed.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Edible Flowers of Butter Trees.
By far the most remarkable of edible flowers is that called from the butter tree. The blossoms of this singular tree are the chief means of subsistence with the Dills and other Indian hill tribes. An average tree yields from 200 to 300 pounds of puffy, bell-shaped flowers that, when they drop off during March and April, the hot months of the Indian year, are eagerly gathered by the natives. They have when fresh a peculiar and luscious taste, but the fragrance of these is not pleasant and is best and most briefly described as "moony." Usually they are cured in the sun, shrivel to one-fourth of their size and then resemble nothing so much as raisins.

The natives prepare them for food by boiling or using them in sweetmeats.—Suburban Life Magazine.

The Potato.
Whoever may have introduced the potato into England, according to Dr. Dorn's "Table Traits," it was not known in North America in 1585, when Raleigh's colonists there are said to have sent it over to us. But the Spanish "batatas," or sweet potato, from which the vegetable derives its name, was brought to Ireland many years before by Captain Hawkins from Santa Fe, in South America. This is probably the potato of Shakespeare's time. Let the rain potatoes. I will put the main here," cries Sir John Falstaff, embracing Mrs. Ford.—London Telegraph.

Know What He Was Doing.
Tom—You spend altogether too much money on that girl. Do you know girls always attract everything a man gives them and then marry the fellow who saves his money? Jack—Sure I do. The reason I'm blowing in mine.—Boston Transcript.

Her Ear For Music.
"What is that tune your daughter is playing?"

"Which daughter?" asked Mrs. Cumro. "If it is the older girl it's Liza's Hungarian rhapsody, and if it's the younger one it's exercise 27."—Washington Star.

The Funniest Man of Being Born with great qualities is being born without any.—Kocherhouse.

TIMELY GARDEN TALK.

OUTDOORS.

Protect the shrubs with a wrapping of hay or straw if you would preserve the season's gains. Since the first cold winter has been mild March freezes do the most damage.

Mulch the lawn. If there are spots give it an extra coat of compost, tobacco stems or a clean stable manure, putting on straw to hide it. This ugly covering, which snow will usually hide, will assure a beautiful sward in the spring.

Start a compost heap. A good gardener never burns leaves, but keeps them in a compost between layers of stable litter, rotting for use in the spring.

Trim the tops from the hardy chrysanthemums, the hollyhocks and the golden poplar and much the roses.

Begin your paper garden. A pencil plan that will avoid overplanting. By adding a shrub, a flower or a new vegetable from the seed catalogues take shape on paper as new ideas appear. Put in your postcard orders for seedmen's announcements.

INDOORS.

Use of Manure Spreader Has a Wonderful Effect Upon Fertility.

I saw today a man pitching into a manure spreader stable manure from a large pile in the field where it had lain until it was partially rotted and where it had been stirred several times with forks. I was interested, says a writer in Green Fruit Grower, and waited for the man to load his wheeled spreader. It took two hours and saw him pass up and down through the field several times. This manure spreading machine is a modern device.

It spreads the manure more evenly than any man can do the work, to matter how careful or experienced he may be. There was scarcely an inch of soil on the field that was not covered with a slight spread of manure, the machine covering about eight feet in width each time it crossed the field.

It would seem impossible that such a slight covering of manure should have, as it does, such marvelous effect upon the soil. This fertilizer is not so much as it is. It is the slight covering of the manure that counts, which benefits the land. The manure is not set at work in the soil, but in a measure inoculates the soil with helpful creatures that continue their work. Further than this, the manure is not so much as it is. It is the slight covering of the manure that counts, which benefits the land.

The successful farmer of the past has been the accumulator, protection and application of stable manure a special study. The poor, improvident farmer allows half the value of his stable manure to waste by being or by being leached by heavy storms, as may be seen by the colored streams of water running away from his barnyard.

Washing Butter In Winter.
In winter the water for washing and also the brine for salting should not be below a temperature of 50 degrees F. With regard to the quantity of water to use, sufficient water should be placed in the churn to float thoroughly all the butter grains contained therein. The butter will require two or three washings in order to remove most of the cheesy matter, which, if allowed to remain in the butter, causes the butter to become bad. When the water is quite clear and free from milkiness on being withdrawn from the churn the butter is ready to be washed. While being careful to wash the butter thoroughly, do not overwash it or the color and flavor will be spoiled.—American Cultivator.

Every acre of land that has been overproductive may be made so again. This is the message of hope that agricultural science brings to the man who owns a rundown farm.

Tug Holder For a Singletree.
Tugs on light harness to draw buggies have slots in their ends which slip over the ends of the singletrees. The tugs are not to slip off when going down as in incline unless some other device is provided to keep the tug end in place.

Cold Drafts Men Dead Hens.
Cold air will not injure fowls when they are turned loose in the yard and can exercise, but when on the roost at night and a cold storm pours on one of them from sunset to sunrise the chances are that the bird will soon begin to droop, perhaps have rosy, and then all the others will take the disease. An open creek or hole will have the same effect on the fowls in the house open, as small streams of air on fowls nearly always prove harmful.—Farm and Poultry.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Booths had a confederate in Mrs. Lucy W. Keyes, inmate of a home for old persons.

Barth Bernhard declares that to her, as to other people here in the month of October, the number 13 brings good fortune, and green is one of her lucky colors.

Trices Lichnowsky, wife of the new German ambassador to London, paints, plays, sings, writes and educates her children. Her most recent work deals with Egypt. Her next book is to be about children.

Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, president general of the National Society, D. A. R., who is one of the largest landowners in Illinois, and forty-five of her tenants each year at her own expense to the Agricultural college at Champaign.

Miss Mabel Boardman, the American woman to receive an imperial decoration from Japan, has devoted her life and energies to the work of a Red Cross. The emperor has conferred on her the insignia of the Fifth Order of the Crown for distinguished public services.

Town Topics.

Chicago's ready population reckoned now make it a city of 2,294,120 inhabitants. It is easily holding first place among the nation's cities of the second class.—New York World.

Building an auto speedway in New York seems a useless expense, seeing that the auto have made speedways of practically all the streets in the town.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

In proportion to its size Springfield, Mass., has probably progressed further and more completely in the use of the apparatus of its fire department than any other city in New England, and others may profit by its experience.—Boston Transcript.

Current Comment.

It is Italy, Fortia's native land, that has definitely decided that women do not practice law.—Boston Journal.

The revenue cutters have fairly earned a truer name. While not the greivous of the sea, they are at least the St. Bernards.—Boston Herald.

Revelations in Washington indicate that if Wall Street cannot keep warm in cold weather it is not for lack of "bombs" word.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The suggestion that automobiles be provided with cowcatchers does not go far enough. A block signal system and safety gates are also needed.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Pert Personalities.

Ex-King Manuel is said to be seeking a cure for "nerves." One way would be to forget that he was ever a king.—New York World.

The difference between John Pierpont Morgan and Andrew Carnegie is that J. P. has a wealth of money and a poor—Detroit Free Press.

The German kaiser is one of our leading emperors and is rapidly becoming a king of the world's rulers.—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Castro has had all kinds of hard luck, but his misfortunes do not seem to have dampened what is technically called his "nerve."—Chicago Tribune.

A Few Oddities.

Adventurer: "Wanted, a white girl to cook."

Doctor's sign in Denver: "Specialist—all diseases."

Seen in answer: "Afternoon tea served at all hours."

Card at pay desk in a cafe: "Your face is good, but it won't go in the cash register."

Ad in an English journal: "Comfortable bedroom, use of sitting room and breakfast." Something new in lodgings getting the use of the breakfast.—Boston Transcript.

Science Siftings.

Saturn has a velocity of six miles a second.

A German scientist says that the pineal gland at the base of the brain governs the passions.

Ten stars with luminosities more than 100 times that of the sun are named by the Astronomical laboratory at Groningen. Beta Centauri is 520 times as luminous; Rigelus, 453; Achernar, 350; Capella, 100, and Arcturus, 230.

The Inaugural.

It is evident that the Washington hotels intend to violate no precedent during the inauguration season. They will take all your money, as heretofore—London.

If they are going to dance the bunny hug and such things in the rotunda of the capitol at the inaugural ball it will be because they want to get on the statues.—Philadelphia Press.

Political Quips.

Sufficient unto the day is the cabaret thereof.—Columbia State.

And many a third class politician is drawing a first class salary.—Chicago News.

Anyway, President Taft can travel now without being worried by office seekers.—Atlantic Constitution.

Critical man may have an ominous sign in the opening of the Colorado legislature with an exchange of times between feminine members.—New York World.

SAVING THE SCENE

An Emergency For Which Actors Must Ever Be Prepared.

ACTS NOT ON THE PLAYBILLS.

Presence of Mind by Which Clara Morris Took to Advance Her Career in "Maudie" and a Feline Intrusion in "Camille."

An experienced actor is supposed to be able to cope with any stage emergency, no matter what is lacking or what happens. Cool, self possessed, it is expected of him to turn the ridiculous into a source of applause rather than of disapproval or laughter.

And among the necessary requirements for the actress is an unshakable self control, no matter if by some careless she is thrown into a situation almost without precedent. She must never fly off at a tangent because of some unexpected emergency.

EVERYBODY LUCKY.

Sam, Sally and the Misses Had Nothing on John.

A old farmer died at a roadside public house where he was well known. The landlady asked him to buy a ticket for a lottery they had on there.

"Well," he said, "I have nothing in my pocket or I might."

"Oh, that's all right, John," she said, "Take the ticket and pay for it any time."

Some time later John called again, and the landlady asked him if he knew who had won the lottery.

"No," he said, "Who won?"

"Well, I hardly durst tell you, but our Sam won. Wasn't he lucky?"

"Yes," said John, "He was lucky. And who was second, then?"

"I durst hardly tell you. Who would you think now?"

"I couldn't say," said John.

"Well, it was our Sally. Wasn't she lucky?"

"And who was third?"

"Well," she said, "you would never guess, and I might as well tell. I was third. Wasn't I lucky?"

"You were," he said. "Did I ever pay you for that ticket, miss?"

"No, John, you didn't," she said, frowning upon him.

"Well," said John, "ain't I lucky?"—Century Gentleman.

Mean Dog.

It was the early hours of the morning and not yet light when Brown woke up with a sense of impending dread.

He had suddenly remembered that it was his wife's birthday and he had bought her no present. Mrs. Brown would know by now.

Ah, an idea! Creeping stealthily downstairs he put a very large pile on the hall table and then, still silently, let the dog into the house. The preparations were complete.

"Many happy returns of the day, my dear," he chorused. "As it is your birthday, I have got a little surprise for you. Be quick and come downstairs and see it."

Full of anticipation, the good lady followed him and was just in time to see him kick the dog out of the house and stare with amazement at the empty plate.

"If that wretched dog hasn't eaten all the beautiful cake I brought home for you last night!" he cried in well acted anger.

But he had overlooked one little fact. The dog had torn his muscle. It took a long time to explain the incident away.—London Weekly Telegraph.

Followed Directions.

"It would be a sin and a shame to tell the real name of the gentleman about whom this pleasing little anecdote is being related by his dear friends. Let us merely observe that he really isn't such a duf as he appears in this. He was invited to a big wedding. At the appointed time he appeared at the church, bearing an immense bundle in his arms. On the church steps he was greeted by a friend.

"What have you got there?" asked the friend.

"The wedding present."

"Why, you chump. You oughtn't to bring the wedding present to the church!"

"That's all you know about it. I got a card for this affair and there it says 'Present at church.'—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Men and Women Cured of the Drink Habit

BY THE NEAL THREE DAY TREATMENT

There is no longer any excuse for any man or woman being a slave to the drink habit. Whether you drink in moderation or to excess, it impairs your vitality and your self-control until you are completely under its influence and cannot stop without medical treatment.

The Neal Three Day Treatment is a pronounced success. It removes all alcoholic poison from the system and restores nerves and mind to normal healthy condition.

NO HYPODERMIC INJECTIONS, NO BAD AFTER EFFECTS.

The Neal Treatment is a purely vegetable compound taken internally.

Our Drink Habit Treatment is equally as safe, sure and effective as our Treatment for the Drink Habit. Write for full information.

Looked Bad.

The monotony of life at a rural railway station was relieved the other day by an amusing incident. A dandy took his ticket at the booking office and then surveyed the station buildings leisurely. On hearing the noise of the coming train he made more haste than speed to the platform. A little man when nearly at the top of the stairway caught his foot to slip. His silk hat wobbled on his brow, his umbrella and bag flew about his feet to his right and one to his left, but he manfully regained his belongings in a group all sort of fashion when on all fours. Then he looked meekly up at the gate official.

"Is this the way to the train?" he asked.

"Yes, sir," was the response. "You can come that way if you prefer to do so, but it looks bad."—Weekly Telegraph.

Rapid.

An Irishman and an Englishman had forgotten their umbrellas and were bawling of their respective islands. The Englishman said:

"We are a jolly lot more rapid in England than you are in Ireland. Why, Jove! I left for my office one morning, and as the workmen were laying the foundation for a new building next door. And when I returned to find that evening the structure was entirely completed."

"And so call that quick work," answered the Irishman. "Why, it came happened to me in Ireland once. When I started in the morning, they were laying the foundation, but when I got back in the evening they were erecting the family for not payin' 'n last month's rent."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GIFT OF 72 AIRSHIPS

That Number Presented to French Government by Private Parties

Paris, France.—Some months ago a number of newspaper proprietors and private people subscribed for a present to the French nation in the form of aeroplanes.

An official report published by the National Committee, which received subscriptions and had the aeroplanes built, was published recently.

Seventy-two aeroplanes, all fitted with the latest military requirements, were the fruits of the subscription.

The Journal presented three aeroplanes, each of which carries two passengers; the Petit Parisien presented three, and most of the other newspapers in Paris presented one or more.

The kind-hearted old lady handed the beggar a dime.

My man here, you say, become so poor?" she asked. "What brought you to this terrible state of poverty?"

The parrot, poor man, replied the beggar. You see, I used to be president of an express company.

London.—There is now being sung with success by the Palladium Minstrels, a entitled "Sleep," written by Harry Pepper, who is only 34 years of age. It has composed several songs, and recently wrote three songs with words and music with twenty-four hours.

A Regular Owl

Miss Knott—Does your husband stay out as late as this every night?

Mrs. Knott—Yes, indeed; I might as well be married to an astronomer.

The teacher had written on the wall was drunk in silence, and turned to her class to discover her mistake.

Little Benjie Sheridan waved his hand frantically, and pointing to the board, scrawled the correction. The board was at a silence.

STRENGTH

Without Overloading the Stomach

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach but give mental vigor for the day.

Much depends on the start a man gets each day, as to how he may expect to accomplish the work on hand.

He can't be alert, with a heavy, fried-meat-and-potatoes breakfast requiring a lot of vital energy in digestion.

Western business men tried to find some food combination that would not overload the stomach in the morning, but that would produce energy.

For years I was unable to find a breakfast food that had nutrition enough to sustain a business man without overloading his stomach, causing indigestion and kindred ailments.

Being a very busy and also a very nervous man, I decided to give up breakfast altogether. But luckily I was induced to try Grape Nuts.

Since that morning I have been a new man; can work without tiring, my head is clear and my nerves strong and steady.

I find four teaspoonsful of Grape Nuts with one of sugar and a small quantity of cold milk is delicious and the cereal part of the morning meal, and invigorates me for the day's business.

BUREAU OF BRAINS

Business Posts for Men From British Universities

London, England.—A bureau of brains, or as it is formerly styled a "Business Appointments Bureau," is now being formed to connect a capital in favor of a more training and vigorous life on the part of our educated young men.

H. R. Morgan, of Messrs. W. H. Smith & Son, whose article on The Dignity of Business was recently quoted in the Daily Mail, supports the scheme in an article in the Review of Reviews.

The bureau, he points out, will bring home to educated young men the specific place in business that they are fitted to fill; it will convince business men of the necessity for fresh brains, and as fresh brains; and it will set in cooperation with existing appointments, heads and similar organizations to bring qualified applicants for business posts into touch with suitable business houses.

The bureau contends Mr. Morgan, should have command of all the talent available from public schools and universities.

The Unexpected Happened

Mrs. Mulligan needed a change of air. The doctor was emphatic on this point. Her husband, however, being unable to wither, she went alone, retiring as usual to her favorite holiday home.

On the morning after her arrival she suddenly discovered that she had come away without her watch. Thinking, therefore, that she must have dropped it on the thick carpet in the dining-room, she forthwith wired to the maid at home:

Let me know if you find anything on the carpet in the dining-room.

In due course she received a letter in reply:

Dear Madam—I was to let you know if I found anything on the dining-room carpet. This is what I found this morning—three champagne corks, eighteen clear ones, five clear-ette ends, thirty-six burnt matches, and—

But Mrs. Mulligan would not read further. And when her husband returned home from the office that evening he found his faithful spouse awaiting him.

A Matter of Tact

Gloom prevailed in the domestic circle—a gloom horrible and depressing. Mr. Brown, in fact, was in a bad temper, and as Mrs. Brown knew, there was only one way of curing it—to rouse him thoroughly, for when he was roused he always accused other people of being miserable. He did so on this occasion.

"You are so calm at last, you're as dull as an old owl," he said, "I suppose because I refused to buy that new hat."

"No, signed his wife; I wasn't thinking about it. As a matter of fact, I thought I'd turn out some letters and—oh, it's nothing of importance. Only a bit of the blues."

Forbidden Knowledge

Little Jack, aged five, had accompanied his mother on a trip to the City. They made the journey by tramcar.

Presently the conductor came round to collect the fares and on approaching little Jack, of course asked the usual question:

How old is the boy?

The mother informed him; then he passed on to the next passenger. But the lad who was the subject of the inquiry, sat quite still apparently pondering over something, until at last, concluding that full information had not been given, he called loudly to the conductor, now at the other end of the car:

And mother's thirty-five.

A sailor who had landed after a long voyage and had his wife called off a cab, threw his luggage inside and jumped on top himself.

All Out of Town

Full of hope and energy, the young reporter was sent to the suburbs to write an account of a fire that was alleged to be raging there.

As a matter of fact the fire was so small that it had been put out in three and a quarter minutes, and the fire brigade had gone home long ago.

As the reporter was so persevering as he was instructed, so he approached the house cheerily and knocked on the door.

Mr. Yelchus (let's be asked hope of the handmaidens who answered his summons).

No, came the reply; he's out.

Mrs. Yelchus?

No, she's out also.

Well, said the cub reporter, we were informed that you have a fire here, and I've come to report.

Oh, that's out too! snapped the maid, as she gently closed the door.

In the sixth grade at Irving school the teacher was questioning a boy about Napoleon's disastrous invasion of Russia and the subsequent retreat from Moscow.

What did the French do then? she asked.

They ran away, said the boy.

Yes, that is what they did, said the teacher, but in a way is hardly the correct phrase to use. What should you have said.

They beat it! he exclaimed, proudly.

ARE GROWING IN FAVOR EVERY DAY

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS PROVING THEIR VALUE AS A FAMILY MEDICINE

Quebec Man Tells How They Helped Him and Cured His Nephew of Kidney Disease.

South Ham, Wolfe Co., Que. (Special)—There is fresh proof today that as a family medicine Dodd's Kidney Pills are growing in favor with the people of Quebec, and that quote an example, Amable Pinard of this place says, in an interview:

"My father, who helped my rheumatism, lumbago, gravel, and heart disease, from which I suffered for twenty years.

"They have not yet cured me completely, but they did completely cure my nephew, who suffered from kidney disease."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure kidney disease. They will complete Amable Pinard's cure, because all the diseases mentioned are the results of kidney disease. The cure of the young man's kidney disease quickly, because it was taken in its early stages. Amable Pinard's troubles are of twenty years' standing and take a longer treatment.

The moral is, that if you cure your kidney disease early with Dodd's Kidney Pills, you will never be troubled with rheumatism, gravel, and other diseases that are caused by sick kidneys failing to do their work.

SWINDLER'S SYNDICATE OPERATED FOR YEARS

Numbered Its Hundreds of Victims Throughout Many Countries of Europe

Madrid, Spain.—Fifteen members of a wealthy syndicate of swindlers, who had been operating in Madrid, have been arrested, and about a dozen now being sent to jail.

The syndicate was victimized hundreds of persons in other countries in various ways. It perpetrated a Spanish fraud in the form of a syndicate, and also the "treasure" syndicate, whereby credulous individuals were induced to invest money in an alleged secret enterprise for recovering buried gold and valuable pearls.

According to the police, the leader of the syndicate was a man who possesses three splendid houses in Madrid, and is constructing a fourth. These houses have many secret doors and corridors, and underground outlets, so that the occupants could escape.

The syndicate operated for eight years and received hundreds of telegrams from victims announcing that they were coming to Madrid. The telegrams were all sent to false addresses, and when the victims arrived at the syndicate's office, they were told that the syndicate was not known to them.

Branches of the syndicate operated at Bilbao, Saragossa, Seville and other Spanish towns.

No Means of Escape

They were on parade when the Irish sergeant stopped dead in front of the newest recruit and eyed him steadily from top to toe before he burst out:

"Arrah! ah! here's a nice state of affairs. How dare ye come here and stand before a decent man like me, and ask me to take ye into my house? Answer me when I speak to ye! With knocking knees, the now thoroughly worn-out man, he squeezed in a few well-chosen words of explanation, but his attempts were rudely overborne by a fusillade of words from the sergeant, who fairly yelled:

"Ye would answer me, would ye? Spake at ye perill! Now tell me, ye spalpeen, what have ye been doing to ye since ye came here?"

Again the bewildered recruit opened a capacious mouth as a preliminary to speech, but the violent voice of the superior broke in once again.

"Take care, he shouted. Oh can hear ye? If ye answer me when I speak to ye, I'll have ye arrested for insolence. An if ye don't answer when I speak to ye, I'll send ye to the guard room for disobedience."

Warts will render the prettiest hands unsightly. Clear the excruciating away by using Holloway's Corn Cure, which acts thoroughly and painlessly.

YOUR BABY'S SKIN

Is the most delicate fabric in the world. You may cause it permanent harm by using poisonous mineral ointments for the little rashes and eruptions that may be caused by the heat occasionally. Don't take any chances. Use Zam-Buk, the baby's best balm.

Zam-Buk is made from fine herbal extracts, and is free from any harmful poisonous coloring matter. Like the grasses and the flowers, nature has colored it green. It is nature's own balm!

Most ointments and salves have, as their foundation, various animal oils and fats. Zam-Buk does not contain one atom of animal substance. Most ointments and salves are too coarse to be absorbed by the tender delicate skin of a baby, and remain on the skin as irritating mass. Just put a little Zam-Buk on baby's skin, and very soon it is absorbed, showing conclusively that the pores of the skin are freely for it.

Use nothing but Zam-Buk for baby's skin troubles and wash with Zam-Buk Soap.

Zam-Buk should also be used for all skin troubles, eczema, piles, ulcers, etc. All druggists and stores sell it at 10c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, or prices for large harmful substitutes and imitations.

Tom—Did Miss Roxley entertain your proposal?

Jack—On the contrary, my proposal seemed to entertain her.

Reduced in Flesh Sleepless Nights

Kidney Disease and Gravel Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

That disease of the kidneys causes the greatest suffering is well known, and when stone or gravel is formed in the bladder the torture is almost beyond human endurance.

The disease should never be allowed to reach this dangerous stage. Pains in the small of the back, pain or smarting when passing water, frequent urination, loss of flesh and weight, loss of the need of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to regulate and invigorate the kidneys and restore these organs to health.

Mr. W. Smith, Port Dalhousie, Ont., writes: "For some years I was afflicted with kidney disease and gravel in its most severe form, having often at the slightest exertion, accompanied by the most dreadful agony. As the disease was on me I became reduced in flesh and passed sleepless nights. No doctor was able to do much for me, and I was many times obliged to obtain more than temporary relief. My attention was directed to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and by using this treatment the disease was eradicated from me in less than four months. I have gained in weight, sleep well, and feel better than I have for twenty years."

Sheer Force of Habit

Tossed into it, Boole had accompanied his wife on an excursion to the realms of bargain, and in the enormous building, with its many departments, had become separated from his better half.

For an hour at least he remained lounging impatiently at the junction of many ways, where lifts, stairs, and passages met, and then, tired and weary he approached an irrepressible shopwalker.

"Sir, he said to the frock-coated and suave attendant in tones of righteous indignation, 'I've lost my wife.'"

"Back came the reply, with stammering tongue, 'I'm sorry, sir, but I can't find her for you.'"

Third floor and over the bridge for the mourning department.

PATRIOTISM EVOKED BY STIRRING PLAY

Its Author Embraced by Men and Women of an Emotional Audience

Paris, France.—There was a great scene after the first performance of the play "The Frenchman" by M. Henri Lavendard, at the Theatre Sarah Bernhardt, M. Guizy, the famous actor, emerged from the play while the Comedie Francaise was doubting whether it could produce it. The black-robed author of the play was embraced by men and women alike after the play, and many were running down many cheeks.

"Bervit gives violent expression to the deep spirit of patriotic fervor that has been growing in France for several years, especially in the younger generation, and which revealed itself dramatically at the time of the Agadir incident, it shows in the form of a parallel the overcoming of the antimilitarism which was rife in France a few years ago by love of patrie."

The two chief characters—or rather types for they are merely mouldings of opposing sentiments—are an old colonel, played by M. Guizy, and a young man, played by M. Henri Lavendard, under the age limit, felt that he must still serve his country.

Very early in the play, the young man is shown in an unpleasant way of showing it and became a spy. In that capacity he discovers that a very powerful explosive has been invented by his son.

The son is a pacifist. He hates war and tells his father that they ought not to fight unless their conscience approves the cause. He uses all the humanitarian arguments that used to be heard in France, and is carried away by his enthusiasm that he is determined to make no use of his invention. He has proved its force by blowing up an island off the coast of Brittany.

Here the pieces come near to being ridged. Any power which possesses the secret of explosive could wipe another power off the map, but he will not do so. He will use it for the chance. He will destroy the formula and throw the explosive into the sea.

There is a scene of angry recrimination between father and son. The mother intercedes and turns the couple. She has been on the boy's side, but the news that another son has been killed in Morocco fills her with a wild yearning for revenge. The piece ends amid frenzied applause with the pacifist rushing off to fight.

The Marvellous Thing.—When the circus directed by the Human Electric Oil are considered, the speedy and permanent relief it has brought to the suffering wherever it has been used, it must be regarded as a marvellous thing that so potent a medicine should result from the six ingredients which enter into its composition.

A trial will convince the most skeptical of its true virtues.

WOMEN WAR ON EXTRAVAGANCE

Stockings Costing $240 a Pair Purchased

Paris, France.—Luxury in woman's dress has reached such a pitch in Paris that the women are now prepared to organize a simplicity campaign.

It is not so much the prices paid for the dresses themselves as the money asked and paid for accessories, which are exceeding the power of the purse, but the deepest purse. The extravagance in stockings has grown in inverse ratio to the thickness of the material.

A shop near the Opera sells stockings at $240 a pair at the cheapest. An inquiry for the most expensive produced one at $200 and $240 a pair made of Chantilly lace, Mechlin lace or tissue of gold.

The nearer the Opera the stockings are sold, the more expensive they are. A fashionable purveyor of white underwear stated that he had no troussesaux under $100, and that $100 and $20 were the prices for cheap nightdresses. Another shop of the same kind making a specialty of underwear has quite cheap socks at $15 and a little better quality at $20; but of course, said the shopkeeper, if a lady wants a really fashionable corset she has to pay for it.

Up to Date

Of course, I have the story of the Irishman who was painting a fence and who worked for all he was worth in order that he might get his job finished before the paint gave out.

It was one of those jokes our grandmothers laughed at before our grandfathers bought razors.

The hero again, is an Irishman, but this time not a painter. Oh, no, a chauffeur driving his master home from the country late one evening.

The nearer the car approached the town the faster it went until, when about ten miles out, it was travelling at a snail's pace.

Steady, man, steady! cried the master to his servant. If you go on like this we shall get held up by the police.

But the Irishman set his lips firmly, and the car got faster still, then blazed:

"We're still nine miles from home, sir, and I can't reach post in three hours. If we hurry we may just do it."

Not True to Life

The son of a man who had been a great philanthropist welcomed a visitor to his office. The talk turned on the career of the father of the young man.

It was a great blow to everybody, my father's death, lamented the son, and I was here the last portrait painted of him.

He led the visitor to where hung on the wall a portrait of the dead philanthropist depicting him as standing erect with his right hand in his left.

A fine piece of work, said the visitor, but it's not true to life. The subject never saw any father with his hand in his own pocket.

Do you think it right to rob Peter to pay Paul.

If it happen to be Paul I do.

Frame-Ups Didn't Work

The result of the election in the Rocky Mountain riding this week is just as would be expected by anyone using fair judgment.

Liberal-Labor candidate was not an exceptionable proposition to the majority of Liberals in the riding from the start, and the fact that the whole handling of Powell was undertaken by a small clique at Coleman regardless of the opinions or desires of Liberals from other parts of the constituency, that he was recommended, nominated, and, if this bunch's idea materialized, would have been elected by practically a dozen fakir Liberals at Coleman.

Powell could not appear before a mass audience with a straight policy, and it was evident even to the least intelligent elector that his candidature was a bluff pure and simple.

Notice to Station-

ary Engineers

The Frank Lodge of the N. W.

Association of Stationary Engineers held its first meeting in the

Frank Hotel on Saturday night,

April 12th. Fifteen members were present, nearly every mining camp

being represented.

The following were elected as officers:

Arthur Shearer, chief.

James Donnelly, vice-chief.

William Hilton, Treasurer.

Eugene Large, secretary.

The next meeting will be held in the Frank Hotel on Saturday, the 19th, at 8 p. m. Every engineer and mechanic in the Crows'

Nest Pass is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Picked Up

guard attached. Owner can obtain same by applying to Chief

Irwin, proving property and paying for this advertisement.

Happenings in and

Around Blairmore

Six foundations for new residences were laid this week.

Easter hats were in vogue last

Sunday—the first time since Easter, 1912.

Frank Greco came up from

Lethbridge to vote for Bob Campbell.

Catholic service will be held in the church at Frank on Sunday next at 11 o'clock.

"The Beggar Prince" at the opera house on Thursday night was a howling success.

A box of B. C. white potatoes and apples unloaded this week for

Charley O'Brien will be supplied with a pick and shovel shortly together with instructions how to use them.

A. E. Fitzgerald, lawyer, of Spokane, who had been in town for a week or so, returned west on Tuesday.

See our windows for green vegetables and fruit. Fresh shipment every week at the Alberta Trading

Co.

R. V. T. Murray, of Coleman, occupied the pulpit at the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning and evening last.

Don't forget the auction sale of horses, etc., to be held at Donih's corral on Saturday afternoon.

Sale starts at 2 sharp.

A dance will be given at the Rocky Mountain Sanatorium hotel on Monday night next, which promises to be an enjoyable affair.

If Socialism is nothing more than is represented by Comrade

Fitzgerald, it sure is not worth fixing one's brains over.

The District Ledger states that a marriage license has been issued to Thomas Appleby and Miss

Adela de Jones, "Tom" denies it.

Rev. W. H. Muncester was at

Macleod this week in conference with Rev. R. Boyle and Dr. J. E.

Ferguson about placing the summer missionaries on the fields.

The jewellers report having supplied two engagement rings during the past fortnight, and that a pro-missary note was accepted as security for the payment of one of them.

The members of Blairmore

Lodge, I. O. O. F., are requested to meet at the Oddfellows' hall on Sunday at 1:30 p. m., preparatory to going to Coleman to attend

church parade with Coleman

Lodge.

A basket social will be given at the Blairmore hotel on Saturday evening in aid of the Catholic church. We hope that the affair will prove a success, as everything has been arranged in such a way

as to give the most enjoyable time possible.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. King, of Calgary, arrived in town Thursday. Mr. King has acquired the Alberta hotel, and now has charge of that institution. He formerly owned and conducted a hotel at Alix, which he sold a few months ago.

The entertainment given by children of the Sunday School at the Central Baptist church on March 24th will be repeated on Wednesday evening next the 23rd inst. A number of additions will
